Sanatorium Contemplated

FAMOUS PRACTITIONER
OF BLOODLESS SURGERY
VISITS OCEAN BEACH

Dr. John G. Klemenau, who has won wide fame for his wonderful cures of rheumatism, paralysis and other like ills by bloodless surgery treatments, is enjoying a week's visit at Ocean Beach, stopping with his family at the Frances hotel and apartments on Abbott street.

For over 30 years, Dr. Klemenau practiced his profession of curing diseases without the use of knife or medicine with remarkable results in the larger cities of the east, and of late made his headquarters in Salt Lake City. His method of no cure, no pay, has won for him most substantial success. He is now considering retirement from active practice and the establishment of a sanatorium with Ocean Beach as the favored location.

SCHNEIDER'S DOG

MEETS TRAGIC DEATH
BY SPEEDING AUTO

"Flossie," a valuable Irish setter, for more than a dozen years the pet of Bert Schneider's family, was run over and killed by an automobile last Friday on Voltaire street. The driver of the car, a youth named Reed, of Harrison avenue, San Diego, was later arrested on a charge of speeding and reckless driving. The dog was a great favorite and eye-witnesses say its tragic death could have been easily avoided by proper driving. "Bert" Schneider, the owner of the cherished canine, is a well known beach booster, residing on Voltaire street and an enterprising Ford salesman with the Powell Motor Company of San Diego.

HATS OFF, OR

HATS ON, LADIES,
WHEN YOU DANCE

Three councilmen, Weitzel, Brush and Stewart, are responsible for the continuance of the "blue law" compelling ladies to wear their hats while dancing in public places. The proposed changes in the municipal dance hall ordinance met with defeat this week when the city council, by a vote of three to two, ordered "filed," two amendments to the ordinance submitted by the city attorney.

Despite all efforts, reconsideration of the hat ordinance was denied. The present law enforces a great hardship upon visitors at the beaches. Just at present the O. B. dance pavilion is said to be the only place in the whole state of California where such an obnoxious ordinance directly affects the patrons, all other dance halls in the city limits being now closed for the summer season.

YOU can buy the best candy that sugar and skill can produce at the BUTTERFLY SWEET SHOPPE. Why trade elsewhere? Special Saturday, Banquet Mints 35c per pound.

HARDING MEMORIAL FLAG

At the recent Harding memorial service at the Union Congregational church a liberal amount of money was raised for a Harding memorial flag. Anyone wishing to have a part in this memorial can send funds for the purpose to Dr. H. F. McCoy or Mr. Stoctzel, the pastor. The flag used last Sunday was a McKinley memorial flag loaned by Miss Mary Brose.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

James C. Bunding has been held to answer in Justice DeLong's court on a statutory charge of two counts, involving the assault of a minor girl in Ocean Beach a week ago. His bail was fixed at $5000.

James H. Connolly was taken seriously ill last night at his home on Saratoga avenue.

AMUSEMENT

"STAR" CAR DAY
CELEBRATED TOMORROW

Half a hundred useful prizes will be distributed free in the celebration of "Star" Car Day tomorrow (Saturday, August 18) at Ocean Beach. At night there will be a big masquerade ball at the dance pavilion, when $50 worth of prizes will be awarded to those in costume. Free rides on the Merry-Go-Round will be given to all "Star" car owners who register. Come to Ocean Beach and enjoy yourself. There'll be barrels of fun with something doing every minute.

THE NEWPORT SHOPPE

Just arrived, a brand-new assignment of Bedroom SLIPPERS; all colors; all sizes. You have to see them to appreciate their value.

COMMUNITY PICNIC

HELD AT THE BEACH

A community picnic under the auspices of the social committee of the O. B. C. of C. was held on the seashore last Tuesday evening, but proved somewhat disappointing in attendance. There was a confusing difference in the announcements of the meeting place, causing a scattering in small groups all along the sands from the picnic pavilion at the merry go round (the original point selected) to the life-saving station further up the beach. However, the evening was enlivened by a volunteer Mexican band from the city and those present at the bonfires enjoyed a plentiful supply of toasted weenies and marshmallows.

Let's get together—COOPERATE—and have a big community gathering with songs and music next time.

LOST—Old English coin on watch-chain. In Ocean Beach or on car from Plaza. Keepsake; $25 reward. Address Froide Foto Finishing Co., Opp. Postoffice.

O. B. Library

Fruit season is here and many housewives will be in need of suggestions for canning and preserving. The following books are in the Ocean Beach branch library for circulation: "Successful Canning and Preserving," Powell; "Every Step in Canning," Gray; "Winston Cook Book," Cramp; "Boston Cooking School Book," Farmer.

The library is showing a splendid growth, the circulation for July was 4,114, only 48 per cent of this total was adult fiction; 559 magazines were taken. The librarian is grateful for any gift magazines. This circulation is made possible because of so many gifts. However, we now spend $75 a year on magazine subscriptions.

MARGARET RANKIN,
Librarian.

THE ONLY "SURE THING" IN THE INVESTMENT FIELD

The Advice of Honest Men Who Know, and Willingness to Be Content With Reasonable Return, Declared Only Safe Road to Assured Income.

"Success in life depends upon the investments made of talents and time," says an article on investing prepared by the Committee on Public Education of the American Bankers Association. "Future return will be gain or loss, according to these investments. That is a law of life which controls investment of money, just as it controls investment of talents." The article, which is particularly timely in these days when so many are being robbed by fake investments, continues:

In the business sense, the word investment relates to the use of money in acquiring ownership of property. Ownership may represent entire possession of property as of a home; partial ownership as holding stock in a corporation; or conditional ownership as in the case of buying a mortgage or a bond. When a person makes an investment in bonds, he is really loaning his money to the government or corporation issuing them. He will receive the interest which they earn as long as he owns them, or until they are paid off.

Ownership of great corporations is vested in individuals who have invested money in their stock or bonds. Many people regard the ownership of the United States Steel Corporation, for example, as differing from the ownership of, say, a small workshop. Yet investors in shares of Steel Corporation stock are entitled to the same rights, under the law, as the owner of the workshop. In the corporation, the owners hold certificates of stock as evidence of their investment, whereas the owner of the little workshop holds a deed as title to his land.

Capitalistic Laws Protect Investors. Because the laws stand for the equal protection of all investors, it is possible and profitable to make good investments. It gives an incentive to work hard and to invest. The person who wishes to invest must first work and accumulate funds with which to do so.

Bonds are always secured by mortgages on the lands, buildings or other property of the corporation for which the money has been used. When a bond matures the money must be repaid to the owner of the bond. All investors are a part of a great financial system which gathers up and puts to work the wealth of the country for the mutual benefit, prosperity, and well-being of all. In America, it is possible for any one who is willing to pay the price of self-denial and hard work, to be an investor. Good investments made in early life by saving small sums as may be possible, lay the foundation for providing the comforts of later years, when it is harder to earn a livelihood and when poverty often becomes the condition of those who have not practiced thrift in youth.

It is not wise for those without experience to undertake to make investments of their money without guidance by those who know. Many companies are constantly being organized to promote unsound schemes, referred to as "wild-cat." There are always solicitors ready to relieve people of their savings by the promise of big returns. The lure of great wealth is always a temptation by which thousands of thrifty people are deprived of hard-earned savings every year. Widows and orphans who have inherited money are frequently sought and made the targets of these fake-stock salesmen. Misery and suffering are the usual results.

Greed Defeats Safety

Many people with small means also lose money because they insist on a high rate of interest on their investments. Safety of principal should be considered above large returns in interest or dividends. Small investors should never buy high-rate, speculative investments, in which there is a great risk, but should stick to those which pay a fair rate and which are known to be safe.

To know whether an investment is worth buying the investor should go to a banker, or a successful business man in whom he has confidence, get his opinion and act in accordance with it. In all probability this will mean the difference between successful investment and total loss of his money.

The banker deals with investments every day and desires to give all the help and information he can, and the business man has learned by experience the need of caution and careful judgment. They believe one should have a clear understanding of an investment before it is purchased. They know the need for avoiding stock promotion schemes and get-rich-quick propositions which in many cases have brought poverty and suffering. While many states have passed laws aimed to protect the public against promoters of fake investments, thousands of people annually fall victims to their wiles, because they fail to seek advice of those experienced in making investments.

Good advice and temperate expectations mark the only road to safe investment and an assured income. There is no other certain way.

Interesting Features Secured for Publication BEAUTIFUL VERSE EACH WEEK

Hearty congratulations are herewith extended to the newly-weds, who will make their home here.

BIG CATCH OF FISH

BY OCEAN BEACHITES

Life Guard Walter Fields and Officer Webster went a-fishing the other day and returned with one of the biggest catches of the season at Ocean Beach. It's a pity that time is insufficient to publish herewith a picture they had taken of their piscatorial exhibit. Their catch numbered nearly two hundred fine fish, mostly corvinas. The Beach News staff joyfully acknowledges the gift of a generous "mess" presented by Fisherman Fields for the home larder.

If you want a FORD touring car at your own price, see Grocer Faber and be quick about it.

Demise of Capt. Shurlock

PIONEER RESIDENT

OF POINT LOMA

PASSES AWAY

Captain Charles Shurlock, a retired British mariner and a pioneer resident of Point Loma, passed away at home on Thursday, August 9, and is mourned by a large circle of friends and acquaintance among whom he was well liked and highly respected. It is recorded that Captain Shurlock came to San Diego from England in 1901, and built the first house on Cabrillo terrace, overlooking Roseville and the bay, where since, and where his children were he and his family have resided ever educated at the Theosophical institute, located near the Shurlock home.

Captain Shurlock was born in Oxfordshire, England, July 29, 1847. He was educated at King William's college, Isle of Man, but decided at the age of 15 to take up a seafaring life, and shipped as an apprentice on board one of the old-time East India sailing vessels. After several voyages to the Orient, he joined the mercantile marine and rose to the rank of captain in the Lamport & Holt line of Liverpool, plying between England, New York and South America, and when he received his commission he was the youngest captain in the company.

Captain Shurlock came of a distinguished family. His father was a clergyman of the Church of England, and his mother a member of a titled Irish family. Two of his uncles were noted surgeons, one of them having been surgeon-major in the British army all through the Indian mutiny, and his great-grandfather was John Russell, the famous English portrait-painter of the latter half of the 18th century, some of whose works hang in the Louvre in Paris.

Captain Shurlock is survived by his widow, Mrs. Frances Shurlock, a daughter Olive, who is a teacher of music at the Raja Yoga college at Point Loma, and two sons, Alan, who is connected with the Spreckels Securities company, and Geoffrey, who is private secretary to Rupert Hughes of Los Angeles, the noted novelist.

PERFECT PAINTING

OF HANDSOME HOME

BY EXPERT ELLIS

Just this side of the entrance to Ocean Beach on Voltaire street, at the corner of Froide, an exceptionally fine residence has been constructed for Robert J. Karr, of the art and photographic department of the San Diego Union and Evening Tribune. The new house is of a very pleasing type of Spanish architecture in chrome stucco, with tile roof trimmings. A garage conveniently adjoins by a graceful arch and wall enclosing the rear of the property.

The commanding house contains seven rooms and bath and the interior decoration will be extremely pleasing in the artistic application of appropriate coloring.

The proper painting and general tone finishing is under the immediate supervision of the skilled Ocean Beach painting contractor, T. J. Ellis, which in itself is sufficient to assure most delightful and satisfactory results. The bath and kitchen will be finished in white enamel, while the other rooms will be treated in delicate shades of grays, making a veritable dream of a home. Trust "Jack" Ellis for that!

It is very gratifying, indeed, to note the growing tendency toward the construction of such substantial houses as the new Karr residence in the beach district.

BABY BATHING BEAUTIES

The baby bathing beauty contest held at Ocean Beach last Sunday afternoon proved one of the most popular events of the summer season.

Three silver loving cups were awarded as follows: Blanche Ruiz, first prize; Winifred Mathews, second prize; Delia Bogard, third prize.

There were over 40 entrants and many original costumes were shown.

SHAFFER SELLS "STARS"

America's Marvels NATURAL AND OTHERWISE

By T. T. Maxey

ZION NATIONAL PARK

Zion National Park is in the extreme southwestern part of Utah. Zion Canyon, its dominating feature, bisects the park from north to south. This canyon is fifteen miles long, varies in width from 50 to 2,500 feet and its walls range from 800 to 2,000 feet high. Crooked as a snake's trail, topped with many splendid and enormous domes and peaks and aglow with color, this canyon is one of the striking scenic spectacles of Western America.

Zion is oft referred to as the "Rainbow of the Desert"—its color scheme being a mixture of grays and reds and browns and yellows which shift into entirely new and unexpected combinations of varying degrees of intensity as the sunrise, sunshine and sunset come and go.

This region was first known to white man when pioneers by Mormons who were taking stock of their holdings in 1858. The Mormons colonized here and Brigham Young, their leader and prophet, termed the place "Little Zion—a sacred place for his people where they might find protection if need be from the Indians who never entered its sacred precincts." The Indians called Zion Canyon Mu-kun-tu-weap (Valley of Many Waters). Zion was little known, however, because of its inaccessibility, until Uncle Sam preserved it for the enjoyment of his people in 1909 by proclaiming it a national park.

The great walls of the templed peaks, extending from the high plateaus to the depths of the canyon, display about 10,000 feet of sandstone strata which has been painted by the brush of time in every shade of pink, gray, brown and yellow, striped sometimes with darker colors, covered sometimes with a layer of white. Shadowed by green trees and canopied by a deep blue sky, this scene presents a color scheme of marvelous beauty.

While visualizing such a startling panorama in a desert world, remember that the walls of this canyon have been fashioned by the erosions of centuries into an endless maze of huge forms—arches, domes, towers, spires, alcoves and natural bridges of many styles and sizes and your mind will undoubtedly reach the conclusion that Zion is an out of the ordinary place.

One of the show places produced by nature in building the formation which we know as Utah, Zion presents an unusual appeal.

(©, 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

The eyes of other people are the eyes that ruin us. If all but myself were blind, I should want neither fine clothes, fine houses nor fine furniture.—Franklin.

DISHES FROM LEFTOVERS

If eggs cooked in the shell are left from breakfast, cook them until the yolk is mealy, cut into eighths and put a layer of cooked macaroni, then a layer of the eggs in a buttered baking dish. Over this poured a thin layer of cooked white sauce well-seasoned, sprinkle with a little grated cheese, repeat and finish the top of the dish with a layer of buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven until brown.

Creamed Ham With Egg.—Chop fine pieces of boiled ham from the shank. Have ready two hard-cooked eggs, cut them into quarters and remove the yolks, press them through a coarse sieve, reserving the whites. Make a white sauce using two tablespoonsfuls each of butter and flour and one cupful of milk, season well with salt and pepper. Moisten the chopped ham with a little of the sauce and heat just long enough to become hot. Make a smooth rounded loaf in the center of a hot platter. Pour over it the remainder of the sauce, sprinkle the sifted egg yolk over the top and arrange the whites in sections around the mound with sprigs of parsley between.

Ham Biscuits.—Prepare baking powder biscuits as usual, add four tablespoonsfuls of chopped ham, roll out and cut; bake as usual. These are served hot with a crisp lettuce salad.

Spaghetti, Italian Style.—Cook one-half cupful of spaghetti until soft in salted water, then drain. Fry one-fourth of a cupful of mushrooms cut into bits, in butter; add one-third of a cupful of minced cold, fried or broiled ham, and the spaghetti with one cupful of white sauce seasoned highly with cayenne and a few chopped chives or a clove of garlic.

Winter Salad.—Take one cupful of cooked peas, one-half cupful of minced peanuts, one-half cupful each of chopped olives and celery and a bit of onion. Mix with a highly seasoned boiled dressing or a mayonnaise and serve on lettuce.

The Question

by Grace E. Hall

A woman walked alone one night
Within the silent park,
The moon thrust gleaming blades of light
Across the pathway dark;
Each wild thing in its sheltered home
Was motionless and still,
A pine tree in the skyline zone
Was the guardsman of the hill.

Copyright by Dodd &amp; Co., Inc.

The woman walked with measured tread,
Unmindful of the way,
A weight of sorrow bowed her head,
And every path seemed gray;
The stars were like a million beads
Upon a velvet gown,
But when the heart in silence bleeds,
The eyes of man look down.

She viewed in retrospect the years
That, like the falling leaves,
Had flittered by, damp with her tears,
A harvest stripped of sheaves;
"What have I gained from life?" she cried,
With scornful glance towards heaven,
When lo! she seemed to see inscribed
The words, "What have you given?"

"THE THEOSOPHICAL PATH"

We happily acknowledge the receipt of a special copy of the August number of "The Theosophical Path," a beautifully illustrated monthly magazine, edited by Mme. Katherine Tingley, and published by the New Century Corporation, Point Loma, Calif. The current issue teems with brilliant articles on interesting subjects and is replete with fine full page pictures. An especially stirring description of the S. D. & A. railway with an excellent word portrait of John D. Spreckels, is contributed by Iverson L. Harris, Jr., assistant secretary to Mme. Tingley, who particularly requested the article in appreciation of the wonders of the railway and the beneficial efforts of its promoter.

THE WAY TO WEALTH

In a recent investigation conducted by the Woman's Club in the Angel City it was found that newspaper advertisements are read by 83 per cent of the women in that bustling burg.

This is just another proof of the fact that newspaper ads are read by the housewives who trade at your store.

To the housewife, the advertisements in her newspaper are just as interesting as the news stories. As the purchasing agent for the home, she is a buyer of raw products and she is vitally interested in learning about new things—things that you sell.

The day an ad appears on a new product you may ask a housewife some questions concerning that product and in all probability she will know all about it. She has learned of it through the ad. She knows what its merits are. She is eager to try it, and she looks to you to fill her need.

The housewife receives her home paper regularly. She reads it—seeing everything, and it is significant that your community newspaper stands head and shoulders above everything else when it comes to actual influence—the appeal, the prestige, the undeniable urge which loosens the purse strings and lets the dollars roll into your till.

Place an attractive ad in The Beach News and prove it, Mr. Merchant.

Frank B. Harrison, superior court clerk and all round good fellow, went to San Francisco this week, taking along a prisoner for the northern city. He will probably be back in time to root for the home ball team.

CODDLED EGGS ARE FAVORED

Plan Suggested for Cooking in Such a Way That Whites Will Not Be Overcooked.

Many means have been suggested for cooking eggs in such a way that the yolks will be overcooked. One of the most satisfactory is by coddling, which is done as follows: Allow a cupful of water to each egg, bring the water to the boiling point, remove it from the fire, put in the eggs, cover the dish closely, and leave the eggs in the water for about seven minutes. There is some uncertainty about this method, for eggs differ in weight and also in temperature at the time the cooking begins. On the whole, however, this result can be obtained by pouring hot water over eggs, if the same dish with the same amount of water is always used, but each cook must make her own rules.

"BY THEIR FRUITS YE SHALL KNOW THEM"

Editor The Beach News:

Last Sunday some of us went to La Jolla to church and after service we took the short line car to Roseville Junction to take the O. B. car back home. But Father Foley was detained a moment at the church, and so missed the car, and had to walk (about a mile) to Roseville. We had quite a long wait for the O. B. car, and when it arrived, we all got aboard except the clergyman, who was less than a hundred feet away when the car started. Two of the passengers pointed him out to the conductor and asked him to wait a half of one minute for him, but not much, it was too good a chance to show off his ten-cent authority, so the tired priest had to wait till next car. Of course this conductor is a young man, else he would not have made himself obnoxious to the public. Those who travel on this line seldom have such experiences for the car men are noted for their courtesy, and it is a pity to have a smirch like this on their record.

"CANNON" PROVED A FAILURE

Indian War Party Suffered Through the Inventive Genius of One of Their Number.

One of the most peculiar pieces of ordnance ever invented was that which was tried for its sole occasion at the storming of Fort Henry, in what is now West Virginia, by Simon Girty, the famous renegade, and his several hundred Indian followers, on September 1, 1777.

All day long, without success and with considerable loss, the savages and their still more savage leader had been attempting to carry the little stockade with its handful of defenders. Night had settled down and their patience was short, when some inventive genius amongst them suggested the making of artillery with which to batter down the stubborn walls.

A maple log, already hollowed by the process of time, was bound with chains, plugged at the breech with wood, filled to the muzzle with stones, pieces of iron and other missiles. It was then conveyed to within 60 yards of the gate and discharged. The log burst into a thousand pieces, its fragments scattering in all directions and killing several of the attackers. And not a picket of the fort was injured.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

There was no service in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, August 5, and Col. Davis therefore arranged a service at the Army and Navy Academy chapel. It was conducted by Rev. Mr. French from Selma, northern California and Rev. D. F. Dunster and was a memorial service for President Harding.

CADETS AS FIRE FIGHTERS

The cadets of the Army and Navy Academy showed great promptness in responding to a still alarm recently when a fire at the home of Mr. Thompson was reported by phone to the academy. The bugler was immediately instructed by Mr. John Lynch Davis to sound the fire call. Although the majority of the cadets have only attended the academy during this summer session, and have not had much practice in this drill, it was only a few minutes before they were at work with the fire hose and extinguished the blaze.

CHURCH NEWS

There was a service up at the Academy Sunday which was attended by a number of residents. Col. Davis gave a short talk and announced that he had arranged for Lieut. Gatlin from the destroyer base to come next Sunday and Mr. Tom Nowell the Sunday following. Rev. H. W. Clark gave the prayer and several hymns were sung, accompanied by Miss Nita Davis. The sermon was preached by Capt. O'Brien, retired sea captain, who took for his text the "Pilot Hymn" which had previously been sung by those present.
